Valutek Offers Free Cleanroom Consultation
Session guaranteed to save clients 5 percent off current invoices

PHOENIX (MARCH 2011) — Often pressed for time and on a tight budget, controlled environment managers are in no position to spend the time researching or take the risk on experimenting with new cleanroom consumable products. On top of that, as the saying goes, old habits die hard. And there are few places that is more true than in the cleanroom.

That's why Valutek is offering a free Cleanroom Consultation. It takes just a few minutes with an account executive and is guaranteed to save 5 percent as compared to the current provider. The dedicated Valutek sales team will work with each client to find out what products they're using and why, and discuss their specific challenges. Recommendations can then be made on products including shoecovers, wipers, adhesive mats and gloves, so that each cleanroom is using the best consumable for their operators and their budgets.

"This can make a big difference to the monthly spend for some cleanrooms," says Gary Coraggio, Director of Sales and Marketing. "All they have to do is grab some of their invoices and pick up the phone. We'll listen to their needs and recommend the right products for their environment, and most importantly, we can educate them on why we are recommending them."

Valutek account executives can also offer educational material and resources including articles on latex pricing and the current market, cleanroom wiping tips, instructional cleanroom videos and much more.

"This is all offered from Valutek for free," adds Coraggio. "Cleanroom managers can't afford not to spend a few minutes finding out how they can not just save money, but make their operators more comfortable and better able to do their work."

ABOUT VALUTEK

The Outfitter of Cleanroom Operators — What is the No. 1 goal in a critical environment? To produce consistent and high-quality product and research, right? And that starts with a cleanroom's operators. You operate your controlled environment to ensure consistency of your product and research, and getting your operators to perform at their highest level is a very demanding task.

At Valutek, we get that.

With 23 years in the controlled environment industry, we know that a cleanroom can be a very uncomfortable place to work: it's cold, it's sterile and it's hard work. We know what operators care about when it comes to consumables: comfort, fit and function. We also know what matters to you: cost, quality and compliance. By using Valutek for all of your cleanroom consumable needs — from apparel to gloves, wipers to mops — operators can get back to concentrating on their critical tasks, not focusing on an uncomfortable garment.
